From the Desk of Fr. Fallon

THE SNOW IS MELTING!

I've been driving around all week, excited to see the snow banks decrease, happy to be driving in less and less slush, and to gratefully travel the city side streets without risk of injury!

It's nice to see it all melt away.

Jesus thinks so, too. He's pretty keen on melting our hearts, frozen as they get with stubbornness and sin. Sometimes He has to turn up the heat, like in this Sunday's Gospel (Luke 6: 17,20-26), to show us how important it is to let Him in.

Notice how the poor, hungry, weeping and hated are the ones called "blessed." Why? Wouldn't it be the opposite? Not with Jesus. Instead they're the ones who are to rejoice because of the love that awaits them in heaven—and the love that awaits them now in Jesus.

And see how those who are woe-ful are on track for a rude awakening. If their hearts remain turned from the Lord, they won't be with Him in heaven. They'll be frozen in their self-sufficiency and their hardness of heart. Not a great way to spend eternity.

While the seasons come and go, we have a chance to remain one way or another. Let's try to stay with the Lord by noticing where we should change. And let's bring others along, too. It's much more enjoyable to come to a Springtime together.

Have a good week!
Fr. Fallon
